Mr. Joe Jacquot, Esq.
400 S. Monroe St.
Tallahassee, FL 32399

Dear Mr. Jacquot:

It was nice to see you at the panel in Orlando last month. Might you have some time for me to come to Tallahassee to discuss some matters regarding the implementation of the felon enfranchisement bill? Of note, several activist groups are highly engaged on this issue and it is important that everyone benefits from a complete understanding of the issues.

In particular, there is a fair chance that the state will face litigation regardless of what the legislature does. We are able to help in that regard.

Sincerely,

/s/ Christian Adams

Panelists,

Thank you for jumping on the call yesterday, it was great to get a feel for everyone's background. As we discussed, everyone should plan to speak for about 5-10 minutes, and then we can open it up to the moderated discussion and audience questions. So that we are all on the same page, please take a moment to insert a couple of bullet points of sub-topics that you would like to cover. We would like to avoid folks discussing the same topics with the same perspectives, but we would very much like to vigorous disagreement to the extent that is possible. I have included a few bullet points from my notes yesterday, but please feel free to change or add. At the end of the week, once I have your comments, I'll circulate a draft agenda.

What Happened in 2018 Elections (Florida and Nationwide)?

- Jessica: Overview of 2018 elections in Florida and Nationwide, without getting into litigation specifics.

More General Election Integrity/Protection Issues?

- Kendall: Criminal consequences & Voter registration.

??Redistricting??

I look forward to seeing you all in Orlando.

Regards,

Hayden

I just saw the decision in the Snipes case. If this moves to a hearing, can you put me in touch with the right Senate staffers to help? We almost filed an amicus in the USDC case. I can present uncontroverted evidence of incompetence that we gathered at trial in USDC SDFL.
